On April 22, 2022, the Department of Applied Sciences and Humanities hosted a session titled How to Make Your Introduction Impressive, delivered by Dr. Nisha as a resource person. She is a respected communication expert and Associate Professor of Communication Studies. In the very outset, the session began with a warm welcome to the resource person by the coordinator of the event, Ms. Radhika. After that, Dr. Nisha provided the college students with essential techniques for crafting impactful introductions. The session aimed to enhance students' abilities to create compelling and memorable openings in various contexts, including academic presentations, speeches, and professional interactions. Dr. Nisha shared several techniques for creating impactful introductions like using anecdotes or personal stories to make the introduction relatable and memorable, presenting intriguing statistics or facts to pique interest and provide a foundation for the topic, incorporating relevant quotes to add credibility and set the tone for the discussion, and asking rhetorical or thought-provoking questions to engage the audience and encourage them to think about the topic.

Dr. Nisha's lecture on making an impressive introduction was a highly valuable session for college students. The detailed exploration of effective introduction techniques, combined with practical exercises, equipped students with the skills needed to create engaging and memorable openings in their academic and professional endeavors.
