Activity segment: Startups

Event Dates: May 10th and 11th, 2024.

Organized by: Startup Incubation Cell, PIET

Target audience: National Level

Name of College holding event: Panipat Institute of Engineering and Technology

Objective of the event:

Foster collaborative innovation and real-world problem-solving among diverse student talents through a 24-hour hackathon.

Provide mentorship and industry insights by connecting students with experienced professionals from leading firms.

Cultivate a culture of creativity, risk-taking, and entrepreneurship through hands-on experiences in coding and technology.

Poster of the Event

The poster features a blue and white circuit board background. At the top left is the Hackingly logo, and at the top right is the PIET logo. The central text reads "CodeX-24" in large blue letters, with "TRANSFORM IDEAS INTO SOLUTIONS IN 24 HOURS" below it. A dark blue banner below the title contains a calendar icon and the dates "10th and 11th May 2024". Underneath is the heading "• PRIZE MONEY •" followed by three trophy icons. Below each trophy is a dark blue box with the category name and a white box with the prize amount: "Winner ₹ 40,000", "1st Runner Up ₹ 25,000", and "2nd Runner Up ₹ 15,000". A wide dark blue banner at the bottom contains the text "Goodies and Swags for Top 60 Teams". At the very bottom, a dark blue box with white text says "Participate Now!".

Writeup of the event

Panipat Institute of Engineering and Technology's Startup Incubation Cell in collaboration with Team Hackingly, organized CodeX-24, a 24-hour hackathon on May 10th and 11th, 2024. The first round, conducted online, took place from April 29th to May 3rd, 2024. During this round, 278 teams from across India participated and presented their ideas. From these, 50 teams were shortlisted to participate in the 24-hour hackathon held at PIET in Samalkha, Panipat. These teams were from a total of 24 different colleges and universities from nine different states Haryana, Tamil Nadu, Delhi, Chhattisgarh, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Telangana, Maharashtra, and Madhya Pradesh.

Dr. Anand Banka, Director at Barclays, served as the guest of honour for the event. He shared his life experiences, motivating and guiding the students to take risks in life and actively participate in events like hackathons. He was accompanied by Ms. Avni Srivastava and Mr. Tanmay Goyal, Directors at Hackingly, who, along with their respective teams and the PIET team led by Dr. Shakti Arora, Dr. Poonam Jaglan, and Prof. (Dr.) Gaurav Agarwal organized and ensured the smooth conduct of the event.

From the PIET fraternity, Sh. Hari Om Tayal, Chairman; Sh. Rakesh Tayal, Vice-Chairman; Sh. Shubham Tayal, Member BoG; and Prof. (Dr.) JS Saini, Director, were present to support and motivate the students. Expert judges from firms such as Victoria Secret, Motilal Oswal Financial Services, Arexa and Bharat XR, LambdaTest, and Coin Weekly provided mentoring and evaluated the participants.

CodeX-24 demonstrated the power of collaborative innovation, bringing together diverse talents to tackle real-world challenges. The event's success highlights the importance of hackathons in nurturing creativity and practical problem-solving skills. Participants left inspired and equipped with new insights to drive future technological advancements.

Top Teams and Their Innovative Solutions

Position	Team Name	College/University	Location	Solution Description
1st	Pip Install	Graphic Era University	Dehradun, Uttarakhand	Creating 2D animations
2nd	Team Agrowatch Squadrans	Ambience Public School	Delhi	Cultivating any variety of plants year-round within a controlled environment
