7. Write up of the event:

On February 6th, 2024, the Start-up Cell at Panipat Institute of Engineering & Technology (PIET) organized a comprehensive one-day workshop centred on the theme of "Critical Thinking." Spearheaded by Dr. Vikas Kumar Tyagi from the Department of Management Studies, the workshop aimed to equip students with the indispensable skills of analysis, evaluation, and effective problem-solving. These competencies are crucial for nurturing independent and rational decision-making abilities, which are foundational for lifelong learning and achieving success in various endeavours.

The workshop witnessed active participation from students across diverse departments, including Management Studies, Business Studies, and Pharmacy. Notable attendees included Dr. Rohit Garg and Dr. Shakti Arora, alongside the esteemed Director of PIET, Prof. J. S. Saini. Throughout the day, participants engaged in a series of activities designed to enhance critical thinking, including group discussions, debates, and mind-mapping competitions. These activities facilitated collaborative learning and encouraged students to approach challenges from multiple perspectives.

The workshop concluded with insightful speeches delivered by Dr. Shakti Arora, the head of the Start-up Cell, and Prof. J. S. Saini, Director of PIET. Their words of motivation and wisdom aimed to inspire and guide students towards harnessing their potential in critical thinking and decision-making. The consistent organization of such events by the Start-up Cell at PIET plays a pivotal role in actively engaging students and fostering a conducive environment for entrepreneurship. By motivating and empowering students, these initiatives contribute to the development of a thriving start-up ecosystem within PIET and its surrounding areas.
